

CURRICULUM VITA
Kevin Dean Ashley

University Addresses:

School of Law
University of Pittsburgh
3900 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15260
(412) 648-1495

Learning Research and Development Center
University of Pittsburgh
3939 O'Hara Street
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15260
(412) 624-7496

Research Interests:

My research interests in learning, law, and computer science are to:

- (1) Develop computational models of case-based reasoning (CBR) and argumentation in domains like law and practical ethics to better understand decision-making and as a basis for intelligent systems to educate students;
- (2) Develop techniques for linking computational models of legal reasoning with legal texts in order to facilitate acquiring knowledge in Artificial Intelligence (AI) programs and to assist legal practitioners;
- (3) Identify and analyze special legal problems posed by computer technology in such areas as intellectual property, commercial law, product liability, technology licensing, and privacy.

Summary of Qualifications:

Professor of Law and Intelligent Systems, University of Pittsburgh
Senior Scientist, Learning Research and Development Center
Adjunct Professor of Computer Science
Fellow, American Association of Artificial Intelligence
National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator
M.A., Ph.D., Computer Science, University of Massachusetts
J.D., Harvard Law School
B.A., Philosophy, Princeton University
Associate Attorney, White & Case, 14 Wall Street, New York City
Visiting Scientist, IBM Thomas J. Watson Research Center

Professional Academic and Research Experience:

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.
Dates: September, 1989 through present.

Current Joint Appointments:

Professor of Law (with tenure), School of Law, September, 1998
Professor of Intelligent Systems, Graduate Program in Intelligent Systems, September, 1998
Senior Scientist, Learning Research and Development Center, October, 1998
Adjunct Professor of Computer Science, September, 1998.

Previous Joint Appointments:

Co-Director, University of Pittsburgh Graduate Program in Intelligent Systems, 1994-1995
Associate Professor of Law (with tenure), School of Law, September, 1993
Associate Professor of Intelligent Systems, Graduate Program in Intelligent Systems, September, 1993
Adjunct Associate Professor of Computer Science, September, 1993
Assistant Professor of Law, School of Law, September, 1989
Assistant Professor of Intelligent Systems, Graduate Program in Intelligent Systems, September, 1993
Research Scientist, Learning Research and Development Center, September, 1989
Adjunct Assistant Professor of Computer Science, September, 1989

THOMAS J. WATSON RESEARCH CENTER, IBM Corp., Yorktown Heights, New York.

Dates: June, 1988 through July, 1989.

Title: Visiting Scientist, Mathematical Sciences and Computer Science Departments.

Developed research proposals for applying AI techniques to assist attorneys in legal practice.

Honors and Awards:

University of Massachusetts Amherst College of Information and Computer Sciences Outstanding Achievement and Advocacy Award (OAA) in the category of Outstanding Achievement in Education. "For seminal work in computationally modeling argumentation, legal and ethical reasoning, and in designing instructional systems in case-based domains". May 1, 2015

Visiting Professor, School of Law of the University of Bologna, December, 2012 - 2017.

Senior Visiting Fellow, Institute for Advanced Studies, University of Bologna, October-November, 2011.
Visiting Fellow, Law Department, European University Institute, Firenze. October, 2011.

Buchanan, Ingersoll & Rooney Faculty Scholar, 2011-2012.

University of Pittsburgh Advisory Council on Instructional Excellence Innovation in Education Award for project entitled, "A Peer-Review-Based Student Model for Ill-Defined Problem-Solving" $25,000. April, 2009.

Selected as a Fellow of the American Association of Artificial Intelligence. 2002. "For significant contributions in computationally modeling case-based and analogical reasoning in law and practical ethics."

Chancellor's Distinguished Research Award. January, 2000. "You won special praise for developing a revolutionary artificial intelligence (AI) model of case-based reasoning in law. This award honors your development of a cognitive science model of practical ethical reasoning and an AI model of ethics case comparison as well as your pioneering work in applying AI to research in legal and practical ethical reasoning."

Outstanding Research Paper Award. Third International Conference On Case-Based Reasoning. Seon, Germany. July, 1999

Distinguished Paper Award. First International Conference on Case-Based Reasoning, Sesimbra, Portugal, October, 1995.

National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator Award (PYI), 1990. Award combines direct and matching funds up to $100,000 per year for a period of five years to study case-based and analogical reasoning in law and legal education.

Philips Laboratories Award for Best Student Paper at Fourth Conference on Artificial Intelligence Applications of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Inc. (IEEE), San Diego, 1988.

IBM Graduate Research Fellowship, 1985--1987.

Grants:

Intelligent Scaffolding of Peer Review of Writing. Institute of Education Sciences, R305A120370. Co-PI with D. Litman and C. Schunn, 7/1/12-6/30/15, $1,498,941.

National Science Foundation Award No. 1122504, "DIP: Teaching Writing and Argumentation with AI-Supported Diagramming and Peer Review," ($1,349,985.00) 2011-2015. PI with Chris Schunn and Diane Litman, co-PIs.

Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst. Award for a Research visit to the Federal Republic of Germany. April-May, 2012.

Learning Research and Development Center Internal Grant entitled “Keeping Instructors Well-Informed in Computer-Supported Peer Review” ($140,000) 2011-2012. With Diane Litman, Chris Schunn, and Jingtao Wang.

National Science Foundation EAGR Grant entitled “Modeling Interpretive Argument with Case Analogies and Rules in Ill-defined Domains” ($50,000) 2010-2012.

URC Multidisciplinary Small Grant Program grant entitled “Automating Comparative Analysis of Public Health Statutory Frameworks” ($50,000 per year, renewable for 3 years) 2010-2014.

Learning Research and Development Center Internal Grant entitled “Improving Learning from Peer Review with NLP and ITS techniques” ($150,000) 2009-2010. With Chris Schunn and Diane Litman.

Learning Research and Development Center Internal Grant entitled “Measuring Classroom Discussions in Mathematics and Literacy” ($150,000) 2008-2010. With Mary Kay Stein, Margaret McKeown, Margaret Smith, Richard Correnti.

National Science Foundation Grant entitled “Hypothesis Formation and Testing in an Interpretive Domain: a Model and Intelligent Tutoring System” ($650,000) 2004-2009.

National Science Foundation Grant entitled “Collaborative Case-Based Learning in Engineering Ethics” ($420,000) 2002-2005.

National Science Foundation Grant entitled “Adding Domain Knowledge to Inductive Learning Methods for Classifying Texts” ($162,825) 1997-2000; ($200,002) 2000-2003.

National Science Foundation Grant entitled “Modeling Learning to Reason with Cases in Engineering Ethics: A Test Domain for Intelligent Assistance” ($524,919) 1997-2001.

National Science Foundation Ethics and Values Program Grant entitled “Practical Ethical Instruction with Expert-Analyzed Cases” ($23,880) 1997-2000.

National Science Foundation Learning and Intelligent Systems Program Grant entitled “Center for Interdisciplinary Research on Constructive Learning Environments” ($4,997,797) 1997-2002.

University of Pittsburgh ECAC Instructional Technology Working Group Equipment Grant ($21,936) 1997.

National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator Award. I secured full matching funds ($100,000) for all five years of the PYI award, 1991-1996.

Awarded Advanced Instructional Technology Project Grant ($13,000) by the Instructional Technology Working Group of the University of Pittsburgh Executive Committee on Academic Computing for “Field Test and Deployment of a Case Argument Tutorial Program (CATO).” 1994-1995.

West Publishing Company. $20,000 per year for 1993-1996.

Digital Equipment Corporation External Research Program Equipment Grants. $10,095 for 1992-1993. $45,750 for 1991-1992.

National Center for Automated Information Retrieval (NCAIR) grants of $15,000 per year for 1990 - 1996 to support a project entitled “A Socratic Tutorial Program for Law Students”.

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. I was one of the principal investigators on a grant entitled “Varieties of Reasoning in the Social and Natural Sciences” for a project entitled “Case Comparison in Practical Ethics”.

Graduate and Post-Graduate Education in Computer Science:

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS, Computer and Information Science Department,
Amherst, Massachusetts.

Dates: February, 1982 through May, 1988.

Degrees: Ph.D., February, 1988.

M.A., September, 1985.

G.P.A.: 4.0/4.0

Dissertation: “Modeling Legal Argument: Reasoning with Cases and Hypotheticals”, describing my design and development of Hypo, a program that performs case-based reasoning and models legal reasoning in the domain of trade secrets law. Hypo employs a Case Knowledge Base of actual legal cases to make and evaluate legal arguments about fact situations input by an attorney. The program poses hypothetical modifications of the fact situation to suggest how the arguments could be strengthened or weakened.

Post-Doctoral Researcher: From October, 1987 through May, 1988 with Professor Edwina Rissland, funded by the University Research Initiative (“URI”), award no. N00014-86-K-0764. Applied Hypo to a statutory legal domain in the TaxHypo program.

Research Assistantships: From 1986 through 1987 with Professor Edwina Rissland on Case-Based Reasoning, funded by the Department of Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (“DARPA”), contract no.N00014-84-K-0017, and URI. From 1984 through 1986 with Professors Wendy Lehnert, David McDonald, and Edwina Rissland on the Counselor project, funded by DARPA, to design a case-based reasoning system with sophisticated natural language understanding and generation. From 1982 through 1984 with Professor Edwina Rissland on Constrained Example Generation, funded by the National Science Foundation (“NSF”), grant no. IST-8212238, to examine dynamic generation and modification of legal hypotheticals.

Coursework: Fundamentals of Systems Programming, Fundamentals of Computation, Introduction to Operating Systems, Information Systems, Fundamentals of Cybernetics, Artificial Intelligence, AI Programming Techniques, Computational Epistemology, Knowledge Representation & Expert Systems, AI Models of Uncertainty, Case-Based Reasoning, Machine Learning.

Programming Experience: Common Lisp, Pascal.

Law School Teaching Experience:

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Courses: Artificial Intelligence and Law Seminar, Artificial Intelligence and Law Practicum, Intellectual Property, Cyberspace and Law, Computers and Law, Information Age Torts Seminar, Commercial Paper.

Developed practicum entitled “Artificial Intelligence and Law” to give law students and graduate students an opportunity to gain practical experience in developing and evaluating computational models for legal information retrieval and legal reasoning.

Developed seminar entitled “Artificial Intelligence and Law” to introduce law students to the analytical problems of reasoning with legal rules and precedents as evidenced in AI research models of legal reasoning. Course materials include extracts from readable research papers and books.

Developed course and seminar entitled “Cyberspace and the Law” to investigate legal issues caused by the development and ubiquity of the World Wide Web. Issues involve First Amendment freedoms, intellectual property, privacy, commercial licensing, crime and jurisdiction.

Developed seminar entitled “Information Age Torts” to investigate legal response to risks of physical and economic injury, invasion of privacy, and injury to reputation caused by computer and database technology. It examines negligence, product liability, defamation, and privacy-related legal standards applicable to software producers, computerized information publishers, and computerized bulletin board operators.

Developed course entitled “Computers and Law” to introduce law students to special legal problems posed by computer technology in the areas of intellectual property, contracting, tort liability, technology licensing, computer crime and privacy. The course focuses on the systemic problems of adapting the substantive law to this volatile area of technological and economic change. It addresses some special challenges posed by advances in artificial intelligence (e.g., contract and tort liability associated with expert systems and protecting intellectual property interests in “intelligent” software.)

BOSTON UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL, 765 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Massachusetts.

Lecturer on Law, Fall Semester, 1987.

Course: Computers and Law. (See description above.)

Computer Science Teaching Experience:

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS, Computer and Information Science Department,
Amherst, Massachusetts.

Teaching Assistant for COINS 583, Artificial Intelligence, taught by Edwina Rissland, and for COINS 123, Introduction to Problem Solving with the Computer. Occasional Lectures.

Other teaching experience: I have presented comprehensive four-hour tutorials entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” at AAAI, IJCAI, ICAIL and IEEE meetings. See Tutorials section below.

Legal Experience:

WHITE & CASE, 1155 Ave. Americas, New York, New York 10036.

Associate: October 4, 1976 through June 12, 1981.

Principally concerned with commercial litigation, my case assignments included matters involving contract disputes, products liability, suits under the securities laws, creditors' rights, illegal payments, antitrust and trademark law. My involvement in these matters included participating at trial, taking and defending depositions, preparing witnesses, arguing motions, negotiating settlements, drafting pleadings, writing briefs, supervising discovery and preparing appeals. To gain additional practical experience, I participated in legal aid programs conducted by White & Case in conjunction with The Legal Aid Society and the City of New York Law Department. As part of one such program, I personally conducted the defense in a four day jury trial of a medical malpractice case and the prosecution of a post-trial motion and appeal in that case.

Legal Education:

HARVARD LAW SCHOOL, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

J.D., June, 1976.

Honors: cum laude.

Activities: My third year paper for Professor Victor Brudney was on legal guidelines under the securities laws for disclosure of problem loans by banks. I was also a member of Student Legal Assistance for the Arts and the Harvard Gymnastics Club.

Undergraduate Education:

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY, Princeton, New Jersey.

B.A., June, 1973.

Major: Philosophy.

Honors: magna cum laude; Phi Beta Kappa; The Gannett Scholarship. The Philosophy Department awarded the Dickinson Prize for my senior thesis on a topic in the philosophy of language for Professors Gilbert Harman and David Lewis.

Activities: During the summer of 1972, as a research assistant for Professor Walter Kaufmann of the Philosophy Department, I critically reviewed two subsequently published manuscripts, Without Guilt and Justice and a translation of Nietzsche's Die Froehliche Wissenschaft. My contributions were acknowledged in each book by the author.

Tutorials and Seminars:

Presented seminar entitled, “Research Progress in Artificial Intelligence and Law: an Intellectual Survey,” at the School of Law of the University of Bologna. December 5-7, 2016.

Presented seminar entitled, “Research Progress in Artificial Intelligence and Law: an Intellectual Survey,” at the School of Law of the University of Bologna. December 14-17, 2015.

Presented seminar entitled, “Research Progress in Artificial Intelligence and Law: an Intellectual Survey,” at the School of Law of the University of Bologna. December 1-4, 2014.

Presented seminar entitled, “Research Progress in Artificial Intelligence and Law: an Intellectual Survey,” at the School of Law of the University of Bologna. December 2-5, 2013.

Presented seminar entitled, “Research Progress in Artificial Intelligence and Law: an Intellectual Survey,” at the Faculty of Jurisprudence of the University of Bologna. December 10-13, 2012.

Co-delivered invited tutorial entitled, “An Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law,” with Matthias Grabmair at Jurix 2011: The 24th Annual Conference, Vienna, Austria, December 13, 2011.

Presented week-long seminar entitled, “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law and Case-Based Legal Reasoning,” at the Faculty of Jurisprudence of the University of Bologna. May 10-14, 2010.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law” with Tom Gordon at the Tenth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence & Law (ICAIL-05). Bologna. June, 2005.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law” with C. Hafner at the Eighth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence & Law (ICAIL-01). St. Louis, MO. May, 2001.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law” with C. Hafner at the Seventh International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL-99) Oslo, Norway. June, 1999.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law” with C. Hafner at the Sixth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL-97) Melbourne, Australia. July 1997.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” with E. Simoudis at the Thirteenth National Conference on Artificial Intelligence (AAAI-96) in Portland, OR. August, 1996.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law” with D. H. Berman at the Fifth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL-95) College Park, MD. May 1995.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Case-Based Reasoning Issues and Applications” with E. Simoudis at the 14th International Joint Conference on Artificial Intelligence (IJCAI-95) in Montreal, Quebec, Canada. August, 1995.

Delivered a tutorial entitled “Case-Based Reasoning and Its Implications for Legal Expert Systems” at the International Symposium on Legal Expert Systems, Meiji Gakuin University, Tokyo, Japan. March, 1995.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” with E. Simoudis at the Eleventh National Conference on Artificial Intelligence (AAAI-93) in Washington, D.C. July, 1993.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” with E. Simoudis and K. Sycara at the Thirteenth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence (IJCAI-93), Chambéry, France. August, 1993.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and Law” with D. H. Berman at the Fourth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL-93) Amsterdam. June 1993.

Co-delivered a tutorial entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” with E. Simoudis at the Tenth National Conference on Artificial Intelligence (AAAI-92), San Jose, CA, July, 1992. This tutorial had the largest attendance of any tutorial at AAAI-92.

Co-delivered with K. Sycara tutorials entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” at the Twelfth International Joint Conference on Artificial Intelligence (IJCAI-91), August, 1991, Sydney, Australia and at the Ninth National Conference on Artificial Intelligence (AAAI-91), Anaheim, CA, July, 1991.

Delivered tutorials entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” at the Third International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL-91), Oxford, U.K., June, 1991 and at the Second International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL-89), Vancouver, B.C., June, 1989.

Delivered tutorial entitled “Case-Based Reasoning” at the IEEE conference on Artificial Intelligence Applications, Santa Barbara, CA, March, 1990.

Invited Talks and Panel Discussions:

Invited presentation for Jurix 2016 Workshop on Legal Data Analysis in a panel discussion entitled, “How should law be communicated and analyzed on the example of international law?” entitled, “Some examples involving public health law of multiple states”. December 14, Inria Sophia Antipolis Méditerranée, Antibes, France.

Invited presentation entitled, “Harnessing Argument Mining for Conceptual Legal Information Retrieval” for the Annual Conference of the Cyberjustice Laboratory, Université de Montréal, entitled “On Recent Developments in Artificial Intelligence: Law and Justice,” in a panel called “New Developments in Cyberjustice and Law: Computational Law,” October 27, 2016.

Delivered invited talk entitled, “Putting Argument Mining to Work: An Experiment in Legal Argument Retrieval using the LUIMA Type System And Pipeline”, at the SubTech 2016 Conference at the University of Richmond School of Law, July, 2016.

Delivered invited presentation entitled, “Legal Argument Retrieval Using LUIMA” at the Vanderbilt University Law School AI & Law Workshop Program on Law & Innovation. April, 2016. Nashville, TN.

Delivered presentation entitled “Putting Argument Mining to Work: an Experiment in Legal Argument Retrieval Using the LUIMA Type System and Pipeline”. K. Ashley (2016) Dagstuhl Seminar 16161–Natural Language Argumentation: Mining, Processing, and Reasoning over Textual Arguments. April.

Delivered paper entitled “A Global Perspective on Argument Diagramming to Support Writing Skills”, K. Ashley, M. Falakmasir (2015) 7th International Conference on Education and New Learning Technologies, EDULEARN15 Proceedings, pp. 7354-7363. Barcelona, July.

Delivered paper entitled “Applying an Interactive Machine Learning Approach to Statutory Analysis” Savelka, J., Trivedi, G., & Ashley, K. in A. Rotolo (Ed.) Proceedings, 28th Annual Conference on Legal Knowledge and Information Systems (Jurix 2015). Best Student Paper Award. Universidade do Minho, Portugal.

Delivered position paper entitled, “Applying Argument Extraction to Improve Legal Information Retrieval” at the Frontiers and Connections between Argumentation Theory and Natural Language Processing Conference, Centro Residenziale Universitario di Bertinoro, Italy, July 2014.

Delivered invited talk entitled, “Toward Integrating Computational Models and Legal Texts (or will IBM Debater beat us to it?)”, at the Thirteenth International Conference on Substantive Technology in the Law School and Law Practice (Subtech 2014), University of Vienna Law School, July 11, 2014.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled, “Computer-Supported Peer Review in a Law School Context” at the Conference for Law School Computing (CALIcon 2014), Harvard Law School, June, 2014.

Delivered invited talk entitled, “A Global Perspective on Argument Diagramming to Support Writing Skills”. Presented at: Board of Visitors Meeting; 2014 Apr 25; Learning Research and Development Center.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled, “Modeling Purposive Legal Argumentation as a Comparison of Value Effects Entailed by Situations,” at the University of San Diego Center for Computation, Mathematics, and the Law (CCML) Inaugural Workshop. March 2014.

Delivered invited talks entitled, "Toward Integrating Computational Models and Legal Texts," at Stanford Law School as part of the CodeX Speaker Series, sponsored by the Stanford CodeX: Center for Legal Informatics. February 2014.

Delivered paper entitled, “From Information Retrieval (IR) to Argument Retrieval (AR) for Legal Cases: Report on a Baseline Study,” at the 26th Annual Conference on Legal Knowledge and Information Systems (Jurix 2013) Bologna. December, 2013.

Delivered paper entitled, “Network Analysis of Manually-Encoded State Laws and Prospects for Automation,” at Workshop on Network Analysis in Law at the XIV International Conference on AI and Law (ICAIL 2013) Rome, June 14, 2013.

Delivered research abstract entitled, “Toward Constructing Evidence-Based Legal Arguments Using Legal Decision Documents and Machine Learning,” at the Fourteenth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law. ICAIL 2013. June. Rome, Italy.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled, “Text Classification and Machine Learning” at the MIDAS Workshop on Engaging Computational Methods for Public Health Law, October, 2013, Pittsburgh.

Delivered paper entitled, “Comparing Argument Diagrams” at the 25th Annual Conference on Legal Knowledge and Information Systems (Jurix 2012) December, 2012, Amsterdam.

Delivered short presentation entitled, “Toward AI-enhanced Computer-supported Peer Review in Legal Education” at The Twelfth International Conference on Substantive Technology in Legal Education (Subtech 2012), July 26-28, 2012, New York Law School.

Presented short talk as invited participant at “Toward Automated Compliance Monitoring Workshop” of IARPA at the University of Maryland, May 30, 2012.

Delivered invited talks entitled, “Toward Teaching Writing and Argumentation with AI-Supported Peer Review” at the: Center for e-Learning Technology (CeLTech) Saarland University and German Research Center for Artificial Intelligence (DFKI) Saarbrücken, Germany, May 9, 2012; Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT) Institute of Philosophy, Karlsruhe, Germany, May 3, 2012; Clausthal University of Technology, Department of Informatics, Clausthal-Zellerfeld, Germany, April 24, 2012.

Delivered talk entitled, "Toward AI-enhanced Computer-supported Peer Review in Legal Education" at Jurix 2011: The 24th Annual Conference, Vienna, Austria, December 16, 2011.

Delivered invited talks entitled, "Toward Extracting Information from Public Health Statutes using Text Classification and Machine Learning" and "Toward AI-enhanced Computer-supported Peer Review in Legal Education" at the Artificial Intelligence and Law Workshops: Envisaging New Frontiers, Centro Interdipartimentale di Ricerca in Storia del Diritto, Filosofia e Sociologia del Diritto e Informatica Giuridica, University of Bologna, November 16, 28, 2011.

Delivered series of four invited lectures entitled, "Research Progress in Artificial Intelligence and Law: an Intellectual Survey", at the University of Bologna Faculty of Law, October 12, 19 and November 2, 9, 2011.

Delivered invited lecture entitled, "The Roles of Intermediate Legal Concepts and Computational Approaches to Modeling Them", for Prof. Antonino Rotolo's course entitled, Philosophy of Law, November 14, 2011.

Delivered invited talks entitled, "Applying Artificial Intelligence to Law: Lessons Learned and Future Directions", at the: Institute of Advanced Studies, University of Bologna, November 15, 2011; Istituto di Teoria e Tecniche dell'Informazione Giuridica Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche (ITTIG-CNR) Florence, Italy, October 24, 2011; Masaryk University Faculty of Law, Brno, Czech Republic, October 6, 2011.

Presented talk entitled, "Legal Applications and IBM's Watson/DeepQA" at University of Pittsburgh Watson Symposium, March 29, 2011. University Club.

Co-presented talk at LRDC entitled "Improving Learning from Peer Review with NLP and ITS Techniques (July 2009-June 2011). March 20, 2011 (with Diane Litman).

Delivered invited talk entitled, "Challenges at the Intersection of Semantic Computing with Law, Legal Reasoning, and Legal Practice," at the Fourth IEEE International Conference on Semantic Computing (ICSC2010), Pittsburgh. September, 2010.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "An Approach to Ontologies for Case-Based Legal Reasoning," at the Institute of Legal Information Theory and Techniques of the National Research Council (ITTIG-CNR), Firenze, Italy. May 17, 2010.

Delivered invited research abstract entitled, "Toward Modeling Analogical, Teleological and Hypothetical Legal Reasoning in a Case Microworld," to Workshop on Modeling Legal Cases at 12th International Conference on AI and Law". Barcelona. June, 2009.

Invited discussant at working session to discuss Richard Susskind's The End of Lawyers? Rethinking the Nature of Legal Services at the Berkman Center for Internet and Society's Law Lab, Harvard University. April 22, 2009.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "Connecting Hypothesis-testing to Legal Texts," to the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine Department of Biomedical Informatics Natural Language Processing Group. April 8, 2009.

Delivered invited short talk entitled, "Computational Thinking for Lawyers," at a panel on Computational Thinking Everywhere for an NSF-sponsored workshop entitled "Computational Thinking for Everyone" at the Keck Center of the National Academies in Washington, D.C. February 19, 2009.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "Teaching Argumentation with Computers: One step back, two steps forward?" at Jurix 2008: 21st Annual Conference, ITTIG-CNR, European University Institute, Florence, Italy, December, 2008.

Delivered invited talk to the Workshop on Approaches to Legal Ontologies entitled, "An Approach to Legal Ontologies: the Case-Based Reasoning Perspective," European University Institute. Florence, Italy, December 9, 2008.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "A Process Model of Legal Argument with Hypotheticals." at Jurix 2008: 21st Annual Conference, ITTIG-CNR, European University Institute, Florence, Italy, December, 2008.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "Twists and Turns in Teaching Argumentation with Computers", at the Twenty-Third AAAI Conference on Artificial Intelligence, Workshop on What Went Wrong and Why: Lessons from AI Research and Applications. Chicago. July 13, 2008, Delivered invited talk entitled, "LARGO, an ITS for Teaching Argumentation with Hypotheticals", Stage Setting Talk at Sub Tech 2008, William and Mary Law School, Williamsburg, VA July 24, 2008.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "Some Thoughts on Using Computers to Teach Argumentation," at The 21st International FLAIRS Conference, Special Track on Intelligent Tutoring Systems, Coconut Grove, Florida, USA. May, 2008.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "Are Students' Argument Diagrams of Hypothetical Reasoning Diagnostic?" Ashley, K. (May 9, 2008) Invited Talk at "Instructional Explanations in the Disciplines: Talk, Texts, and Technology: A Conference in Honor of Gaea Leinhardt" Learning Research and Development Center University of Pittsburgh.

Delivered invited talk entitled, "The Intersection between Artificial Intelligence and Law: an Introduction to AI & Law" at the Carnegie Mellon University chapter of The Triple Helix. (February, 2008).

Invited panelist in a conference at Cardozo Law School in Manhattan entitled, "Graphic and Visual Representations of Evidence and Inference in Legal Settings", commenting on a paper entitled, "Graphical Manipulation of Evidence in Structured Arguments," by John Lawrence of SRI International's Artificial Intelligence Center, Menlo Park, California. (January, 2007)

Delivered paper entitled "Learning by Diagramming Supreme Court Oral Arguments", Ashley, K., (June 7, 2007) to the 11th International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law (ICAIL-07).

Delivered short talk entitled "Can AI & Law Contribute to Managing Electronically Stored Information in Discovery Proceedings? Some Points of Tangency." Ashley, K. (June 4, 2007) at DESI Workshop: Supporting Search and Sensemaking for Electronically Stored Information in Discovery Proceedings.

Co-delivered a talk entitled "Hypothesis formation and testing in an interpretive domain" at a Carnegie Mellon University meeting of the NSF ITR SCOTUS project. (December, 2006).

Delivered invited talk entitled "Teaching Case Analysis through Framing: Prospects for an ITS in an ill-defined domain," ITS 2006 Workshop on "Intelligent Tutoring Systems for Ill-Defined Domains" Jhongli, Taiwan. June 2006.

Delivered invited talk entitled "Hypothesis Formation and Testing in an Interpretive Domain" Ashley, K. D. Cognitive Brown Bag Talk to Cognitive Science faculty and graduate students, Learning Research and Development Center. November 9, 2005.

Delivered invited talk entitled "Hypothesis Formation and Testing in an Interpretive Domain" Ashley, K.D. ISP Forum talk to Graduate Program in Intelligent Systems faculty and graduate students. December 2, 2005.

Delivered invited talks entitled "International Conference on Case-Based Reasoning 2003: Highlights – Overview and Distinguished Paper Awards” at the Twentieth National Conference on Artificial Intelligence, Pittsburgh. July, 2005.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Teaching Creative Legal Reasoning with Examples from Supreme Court Oral Arguments” at the ICAIL-05 Workshop on Artificial Intelligence and Legal Education. Bologna. June, 2005.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Generating Legal Arguments and Predictions from Case Texts,” at the Tenth International Conference of AI and Law. Bologna. June, 2005.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Applying Scientific Hypothesis Testing to Predict Case Outcomes: The Predictive Role of Legal Concepts.” Lehigh University Department of Computer Science and Engineering. April, 2004.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Case-Based Models of Legal Reasoning in a Civil Law Context” at the International Congress of Comparative Cultures and Legal Systems of the Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Mexico City. February, 2004.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Do Case-Based Models of Legal Reasoning Fit in a Civil Law Context?” at the Workshop on CBR, University of Maastricht, the Netherlands. November, 2003.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Applying Scientific Hypothesis Testing to Predict Case Outcomes: The Predictive Role of Legal Concepts” at the Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium. November, 2003.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Exploring an Example of Creative Legal Problem Solving: Inventing the NOW Account,” at the Special Workshop of the IVR World Congress 2003 on Creativity in Legal Problem Solving. Lund, Sweden. August, 2003.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Toward a Computerized Case-Based Legal Assistant” at the University of Saint Catherine, Florianopolis, Brazil. August, 2003.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Teaching Case-Based Argumentation Concepts Using Dialectical Argument vs. Didactic Explanations,” to the Board of Visitors of the University of Pittsburgh LRDC/CMU CIRCLE Project and to the Intelligent Systems Forum. March, 2002, Co-delivered invited talk entitled, “Bridging the Gap Between Abstract Rules and Specific Facts: A Case-Based Approach” to the Board of Ethical Review of the National Society of Professional Engineers in Alexandria, VA. October, 2001.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Opportunities and Prospects for Intelligent Tutoring in Legal Education” at the Eighth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence & Law (ICAIL-01). St. Louis, MO. May, 2001.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Using Textual CBR For Case Authoring Support” at the Fourth International Conference on Case-Based Reasoning. (ICCB-01). Vancouver, BC. July, 2001.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Computational Models of Case-Based Legal Reasoning and Their Uses”. Ashley, K.D. (2001) University of Bologna. April.

Delivered invited talks entitled “Teaching Argumentation Concepts Using Dialectical Arguments vs. Didactic Explanations”. Ashley, K.D. (2001). To CIRCLE Board of Visitors and Intelligent Systems Program Forum. February.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Computational Models of Legal Reasoning and Their Uses”. Ashley, K.D. (2000). University of Chicago Law School Roundtable. November.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Law School Education and Information Technology”. Ashley, K.D. (2000). 25th Annual Meeting of The Law and Computers Association of Japan. November.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled “Modeling Learning to Reason with Cases in Engineering Ethics: A Test Domain for Intelligent Assistance” at Carnegie Mellon University Department of Philosophy Colloquium. September, 2000.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Applying Textual Case-Based Reasoning and Information Extraction in Lessons Learned Systems”. Ashley, K. D. AAAI Workshop on Intelligent Lessons Learned Systems. Austin. August, 2000.

Delivered invited short talk entitled “Connecting: (1) Open/Closed Source Code, (2) Regulability, and (3) Making Legal Rules Explicit in AI & Law”. Sixth International Conference on Substantive Technology in Law School and Law Practice (SubTech 2000). Harvard Law School. July.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Toward Automatically Indexing Textual Cases for an Intelligent Tutoring System”. Ashley, K.D. (2000). To LRDC Board of Visitors. January.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Progress in Textual Case-Based Reasoning”. Ashley, K.D. (1999). Navy Center for Applied Research in Artificial Intelligence 1999 Seminar Series. Naval Research Laboratory. October.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Progress in Text-Based Case-Based Reasoning”. Ashley, K.D. (1999). Third International Conference on Case-Based Reasoning. Seon, Germany. http://www.lrdc.pitt.edu/Ashley/TalkOverheads/_files/v3/_document.htm

Delivered invited talks entitled “On Teaching Cyclists to Watch Out for Balloons”. Ashley, K.D. (1998). To Learning Research and Development Center and LRDC Board of Visitors. September and October.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Adding an Intelligent Tutor to an Electronic Legal Casebook”. Ashley, K.D. (1998). Fifth International Conference on Substantive Technology in Law School and Law Practice, Stockholm, July.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled “Reasoning Symbolically About Partially Matched Cases”. Ashley, K.D. and Alevin, V. (1997). At the Fifteenth International Joint Conference on Artificial Intelligence (IJCAI-97), Nagoya, Japan. August.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Evaluating a case argument tutoring program with a first year legal writing section” at the 4th International Conference on Substantive Technology in the Law School and Law Practice University of Montreal. July, 1996.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled “An Empirical Evaluation of a Case Argument Tutorial Program” at the First Carnegie Mellon University Symposium on Technology Enhanced Learning. Pittsburgh, PA. May, 1996.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Does CBR Adaptation Really Work?” at the 1995 AAAI Fall Symposium on Adaptation of Knowledge for Reuse. Cambridge, MA. November.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Reasoning with Reasons in Case-Based Comparisons” at the First International Conference on Case-Based Reasoning (ICCB-95) Sesimbra, Portugal. October, 1995.

Delivered invited talk entitled “A Report on the CATO Program” to West Publishing Company Research Department, Eagan, MN. September, 1995.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled “Doing Things with Factors” at the Fifth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law College Park, MD. May, 1995.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled “Representing Methods of Legal Analysis Imposed by Treaties and Statutes” at The Third International Workshop on a Legal Expert System for the CISG, College Park, MD. May 1995.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled “Context Sensitive Case Comparisons in Practical Ethics: Reasoning About Reasons” at the Fifth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law College Park, MD. May, 1995.

Delivered an invited talk entitled “Teaching Law Students to Reason with Cases: the CATO Program” at the International Symposium on Legal Expert Systems, Meiji Gakuin University, Tokyo, Japan. March, 1995.

Invited to conduct breakout session entitled “Problems and Progress in Artificial Intelligence (AI) Models of Case-Based Legal Reasoning” at American Association of Law Schools (AALS) Mini-Workshop on Uses of Technology in Research and Teaching, New Orleans. January, 1995.

Delivered invited talk entitled “A CBR Knowledge Representation for a Practical Ethics Domain: Toward Modeling Medical Ethical Reasoning” at the University of Chicago Department of Computer Science. December, 1994.

Delivered invited talk entitled “A CBR Knowledge Representation for Practical Ethics” at the Second European Workshop on Case-Based Reasoning (EWCBR-94), Chantilly, France. November, 1994.

Co-delivered invited talk entitled “An Instructional Environment for Practicing Argumentation Skills” at the Twelfth National Conference on Artificial Intelligence (AAAI-94). Seattle, WA. July, 1994.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Evaluating Comparative Evaluation Models” at the AAAI-94 Workshop on Case-Based Reasoning . Seattle, WA. July, 1994.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Knowledge Representation for Ethics Case Comparison and Some Ramifications for Legal Knowledge Representation” Japanese ICOT Workshop on AI and Law. Boston. March, 1994.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Using Student Questions in a Case Argument Tutorial System (CATO)” and showed video of CATO program at the American Association of Law Schools 1994 Annual Meeting for the Section on Teaching Law Outside of Law Schools. Orlando, FL. January, 1994.

Delivered invited talk entitled “An Artificial Intelligence Model of Arguing with Cases” and showed video of CATO program to the Legal Theory Workshop of the University of Chicago Law School. November, 1993.

Delivered talk entitled “Using Logic to Reason with Cases” at the First European Workshop on Case-Based Reasoning (EWCBR-93), Kaiserslautern Germany. November, 1993.

Delivered talk entitled “Toward Intelligent Tutoring with Cases in Law and Practical Ethics” to the University of Pittsburgh Graduate Program in Intelligent Systems Seminar Series. November, 1993.

Co-delivered talk entitled “What Law Students Need to Know to WIN” at the Fourth International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law, Amsterdam. June, 1993.

Delivered invited presentation entitled “Reasoning with Cases in AI, Law and Ethics” to an audience of sixty computer science students and legal scholars at the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, Computer Law Institute, Vrije University, Amsterdam, The Netherlands. November, 1992.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Reasoning with Cases in AI, Law and Ethics” for the University of Pittsburgh Intelligent Systems Program R&D Seminar series. October, 1992.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Generating Dialectical Examples Automatically” at the Second International Conference on Substantive Technology in the Law School, Chicago-Kent College of Law, July, 1992.

Co-delivered talk entitled “Generating Dialectical Examples Automatically” at the Tenth National Conference on Artificial Intelligence (AAAI-92) San Jose, CA. July, 1992.

Co-delivered talk entitled “Automated Generation of Examples for a Tutorial in Case-Based Argumentation” at the Second International Conference on Intelligent Tutoring Systems (ITS-92) Montreal. June, 1992.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Reasoning with Cases in AI and Law” at the Washington University of St. Louis Computer Science Department / SIGART Seminar. May, 1992.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Reasoning with Cases in AI and Law” at the Washington University of St. Louis School of Law. May, 1992.

Delivered invited talk entitled “Toward a Socratic Tutoring System for Teaching Law Students to Argue with Cases” to Board of Trustees of the National Center for Automated Information Retrieval (NCAIR). Washington, D.C. May, 1992.

Co-delivered talk entitled “Toward an Intelligent Tutoring System for Teaching Law Students to Argue with Cases” at the Third International Conference on AI and Law (ICAAIL-91), Oxford, UK. June, 1991.

Participated in panel discussion entitled “Cases and Rules” at the Third International Conference on AI and Law (ICAAIL-91), Oxford, UK. June, 1991.

Co-delivered talk entitled “A Computational Approach to Explaining Case-Based Concepts of Relevance in a Tutorial Context” at the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) Case-Based Reasoning Workshop, Washington, DC. May, 1991.

Presented an invited talk entitled “Reasoning with Cases and Hypotheticals in HYPO” to the Cognitive Science Society, Princeton University in April, 1991.

Delivered talk entitled “Toward an Intelligent Case-Based Tutorial Program for Teaching Students to Argue with Cases” and participated as a panelist at the Stanford Spring Symposium on Argumentation and Belief at Stanford University in March, 1991.

Panelist at AAAI-90 Workshop on Artificial Intelligence and Legal Reasoning, Boston, August, 1990.

Panelist at AAAI Spring Symposium on Case-Based Reasoning, Stanford University, Palo Alto, CA, March, 1990.

Delivered talk entitled “Defining Saliency in Case-Based Arguments” at IJCAI-89, Detroit, MI, August, 1989.

Delivered talk entitled “Toward a Computational Theory of Arguing with Precedents: Accommodating Multiple Interpretations of Cases” at the Second International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law, Vancouver, B.C., June, 1989.

Kevin D. Ashley. November, 2017.

Participated in panel discussion on “Similarity Metrics” at DARPA Case-Based Reasoning Workshop, Pensacola Beach, FL, May, 1989.

Delivered talk entitled “Waiting on Weighting: A Symbolic Least Commitment Approach” at AAAI-88, St. Paul, MN, August, 1988.

Delivered talk entitled “Reasoning Adversarially with Cases and Factors” at AAAI Workshop on Case-Based Reasoning, AAAI-88, St. Paul, MN, August, 1988.

Delivered talk entitled “AI Models of Legal Reasoning; A Case-Based Approach” at Boston Bar Association Computer Law Committee, Boston, MA, May, 1988.

Delivered talk entitled “Case-Based Reasoning about Competing Factors in Hypo” at DARPA Case-Based Reasoning Workshop, Clearwater Beach, Fla., May, 1988.

Delivered talk entitled “Hypo: an Adversarial Case-Based Reasoning System” at IBM Thomas J. Watson Research Center, Yorktown Heights, NY, April, 1988.

Delivered guest lecture entitled “Hypo: an Adversarial Case-Based Reasoning System” at Stanford Law School seminar on Building Legal Expert Systems, Palo Alto, CA, April, 1988.

Delivered talk entitled “Dynamic Assessment of Relevancy in a Case-Based Reasoner” at Fourth IEEE Conference on Artificial Intelligence Applications, San Diego, March, 1988.

Delivered faculty colloquium entitled “Arguing by Analogy in Law: an Artificial Intelligence Model” at Boston University Law School, February, 1988, Boston, MA.

Delivered seminar entitled “Protecting and Exploiting Software Development: Copyrights, Contracts and Licensing” at Boston University Law School, Center for Law and Technology, February, 1988, Boston, MA.

Presented demonstration of Hypo program at Conference on New Technologies for the Codification, Storage, Retrieval and Analysis of International Events Data co-sponsored by Data Developments in International Relations, University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana, and Center for International Studies, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, November, 1987, Cambridge, MA.

Delivered talk entitled “Compare and Contrast, A Test of Expertise” at AAAI, Seattle, WA. July, 1987.

Delivered talk entitled “Distinguishing - A Reasoner's Wedge” at Ninth Annual Conference of the Cognitive Science Society, Seattle, WA. July, 1987.

Delivered talk entitled “Hypo: A Case-Based Reasoning System” at Theoretical Issues in Conceptual Information Processing, Washington, D.C., June, 1987.

Participated in panel discussion of “Contract and Tort Liability of Expert Systems” and delivered talk entitled “Allocating the Risks of Relying on Expert Systems” at the Symposium on Expert Systems sponsored by the Center for Law and Technology, Boston University, School of Law, May, 1987.

Co-delivered talk entitled “A Case-Based System for Trade Secrets Law & But, See, Accord: Generating Blue Book Citations in Hypo,” at First International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law, Northeastern University, Boston. May, 1987.

Delivered seminars entitled “Applying Relevant Precedents in a Case-Based Reasoning System,” April - May, 1987 at computer science departments of: Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Carnegie Mellon University, University of California at Berkeley, Harvard University, University of Texas, University of Pennsylvania, Columbia University, University of Southern California.

Co-delivered talk entitled “Hypo: Reasoning with Cases in a Legal Domain” at DARPA Conference on Case-Based Reasoning, Atlanta, Georgia. December, 1986.

Co-delivered talk entitled “Hypotheticals as Heuristic Device” at AAAI, Philadelphia. August, 1986.

Delivered talk entitled “Knowing What to Ask Next and Why: Asking Pertinent Questions Using Cases and Hypotheticals” at Eighth Annual Conference of the Cognitive Science Society, Amherst, MA. August, 1986.

Delivered seminar required for thesis entitled “Modelling Legal Argument: Reasoning with Cases and Hypotheticals -- A Thesis Proposal”. University of Massachusetts, Computer and Information Science Department, Amherst. December, 1985.

Delivered talk entitled “Toward Modelling Legal Argument” at Second International Congress, Logica, Informatica, Diritto, Automated Analysis of Legal Texts, Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche, Istituto per la documentazione giuridica, Florence, Italy. September, 1985.

Participated as panelist in discussion entitled “AI and Legal Reasoning” with L. Thorne McCarty, Anne Gardner, Donald Waterman, Michael Dyer and Edwina Rissland, Chairman, at IJCAI. Los Angeles, CA. August, 1985. See Report of Panel in Proceedings IJCAI-85, p. 1254.

Delivered talk entitled “The Counselor Project” at Second Annual Workshop on Theoretical Issues in Conceptual Information Processing, Yale University, New Haven, CT. May, 1985.

Delivered talk entitled “Reasoning by Analogy: A Survey of Selected A.I. Research with Implications for Legal Expert Systems” at University of Houston Conference on Law and Technology, Houston, Tex. August, 1984.

Major Professional Service Positions:

Program Chairperson, 26th Annual Conference of Legal Knowledge and Information Systems (Jurix 2013) Bologna, Italy.

Conference Chairperson, 13th International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law. University of Pittsburgh School of Law. 2011.

Senior Program Committee, Intelligent Tutoring Systems 2012

Program Committee, Applying Human Language Technology to the Law

Senior Program Committee Member, Artificial Intelligence in Education 2013, 2011

Program Committee, Fourth International Conference on Computational Models of Argument

Guest Editor, Artificial Intelligence and Law, Special Issue on e-Discovery. 2009-2010.

Guest Editor, International Journal of Artificial Intelligence in Education Special Issue on Ill-defined domains. 2007-2008.

Co-organizer, Discovery of Electronically Stored Information (DESI III) Workshop on Global E-Discovery/E-Disclosure at 12th International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Law 2009, Barcelona, June.

Invited participant, Dagstuhl Perspectives Workshop entitled “Theory and Practice of Argumentation Systems” and, in particular, in a group focusing on “Argumentation and Decision Support in Application Areas.” February, 2008.

Program Committee Co-chairperson. 8th International Conference on Intelligent Tutoring Systems. ITS 2006. Jhongli, Taiwan. June 2006.

Co-chairperson, Program Committee: International Conference on Case-Based Reasoning, Trondheim, Norway. 2003.

Guest Editor, Artificial Intelligence Journal Special Issue on Artificial Intelligence and Law. 2001-2003.
